

Ethics in Psychoanalysis

May 2 and May 16, 2015, Ann Arbor

Marilyn Frye, Ph.D. and Peter Wood MSW instructors

SYLLABUS

The course explores readings in varying attitudes toward ethics in the history of psychoanalytic thought, and ends with a consideration of the ethical stance of the analyst.

Week 1

12:30-2:30 Saturday, May 2, 2015

(These readings will be made available upon registration)

Racker, H. (1966). Ethics and Psychoanalysis and the Psychoanalysis of Ethics. International Journal of Psychoanalysis, 47:62-80.

Wallwork, E. (2005). Ethics in Psychoanalysis, in Person E, Cooper A, Gabbard G. (eds.) Textbook of Psychoanalysis. Arlington, VA: The American Psychiatric Publishing, 281-297.

Week 2

12:30-3:30. Saturday, May 16, 2015

(Please order the text - well worth it - about $35)

Orange, D. (2011). The Suffering Stranger. New York, NY: Routledge.

Chapter 1 – “What is Hermeneutics?”

Chapter 2 – “The Suffering Stranger and the Hermeneutics of Trust”